Data answered. "We call it 27-0-DB-9971. That's no help to you. It takes a long time for these metals to oxidize."

"The attrition of accidents, illness, wars and such took care of that. Your intelligence was bred out. It is gone. Children that should have been born never were. The just-average, they'll-get-along majority took over the population. The average IQ now is 68."

"Just androids â€” real androids. Some generations ago, the geneticists realized at last that nobody was going to pay any attention to what they said, so they abandoned words for deeds. Specifically, they formed and recruited for an android closed corporation intended to maintain and protect the breed. We are their descendants of those first androids, about nine million of us. There are fifteen billion of the breed, so we are their slaves.
